Aluminum Strike Averted In 11th Hour Settlement

Would Have Curtailed
Output 20 Per Cent;
Steel Outlook Good

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Settlement of a threatened aluminum strike and speed-up of steel production put the nation's economy on firm footing today for the first time in two months.

A walkout of 15,000 CIO steelworkers at nine plants of the giant Aluminum Company of America was averted last night by an 11th hour settlement.

The strike set for today would have shut off more than 20 per cent of the nation's ingot aluminum production, vitally needed in the manufacture of airplanes and other defense items.

WSB Announces End

The settlement was announced by the Wage Stabilization Board on the eve of its final appearance.
The wage board, stripped of most of its dispute-settling powers by Congress last month, will be replaced by a new board lacking any power to propose settlement terms in deadlocked labor disputes.

The WSB announcement said the new contracts will give workers a 21.4 cents an hour pay benefit package. Of that 15 cents is retroactive to March 10 and four cents effective July 1. The pact also calls for a modified union shop where employees must apply for union membership but may withdraw during the 15th to 30th day of employment. Old employees are exempt.

Kaiser Contract Okayed

Approval of a new wage contract between Kaiser Aluminum and Chemical Corp. and the CIO United Steelworkers Union affecting 5,000 employees in Kaiser plants also was announced.

Meanwhile, steel companies took short cuts to speed up production.
By truck and railroad tinsplate and other steel products moved to consumers.

But one sour note in the general back to work story came from Defense Production Administrator
Henry H. Fowler. He warned it may be two or three months before manufacturers of civilian goods get sufficient flow of new steel.
Fowler estimates steel production loss at 20 million tons.

McGranery Says Cleanup Progressing

By JACK ADAMS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Att. Gen.
James P. McGranery says he is getting along very well without the asbestos pants his predecessor
J. Howard McGrath recommended that he wear to Washington.

Also, McGranery said the government's corruption-cleanup campaign he inherited from McGrath and special administration investigator Newbold Morris, is going forward satisfactorily, although without fanfare.

McGranery made both statements in answering blunt inquiries yesterday when he received a delegation of about 88 teen-agers attending the American Legion's Boys' Nation sessions here.

After showing the youngsters his private suite, the new attorney general said he was open to any questions.

One young delegate asked if he had needed the asbestos pants McGrath recommended on the day last April when McGrath fired Morris and was himself promptly removed from office by President Truman.

Laughing, McGranery replied:
"No, I don't think I will need the asbestos pants. I think I can get along without them."

22, were handed the fines.

All were arrested over the weekend at Guilford Lake on a warrant filed by Miss Jackson's mother.

Hoax Nets Gunman $20,000 From Banker

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Bank manager Walter Blomberg said yesterday he handed over $20,000 in small bills to a gunman and accompanied him in his escape in a public bus because the robber had convinced him his wife was held as a hostage.

Blomberg, 48, manager of the American Trust Company branch at 16th and Valencia, did not sound an alarm until a half hour after the bandit left him in downtown San Francisco.

Mrs. Blomberg was found safe at home.

The robber appeared at Blom-berg's desk at 3 p. m. He handed the bank manager a note and showed a gun beneath his coat.
The note said two confederates were in the bank and a third outside, and Mrs. Blomberg would suffer harm if he did not hand over $20,000.

The bank manager handed over the money. The robber ordered him to accompany him out of the bank, and then said loudly:
"Come on, I'll buy you a cup of coffee."

Outside the bank they boarded a bus and proceeded downtown.
The robber left the bus, warning Blomberg to keep silent for a half hour, or his wife would be harmed.

Gas Makes 300 Ill

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Deadly chlorine gas, pouring from a ruptured hose, made approximately 300 persons ill at the Diamond Alkali Company's 865-acre plant yesterday.

No one was reported in critical condition but 28 were put under oxygen treatment.

named shortly by President Truman.

Members must be confirmed by the Senate, but as it is not in session Truman may name board members to serve until Congress convenes in January.

It is reported he is having difficulty finding men to fill the posts.
The old WSB was the center of heated controversy during the steel strike because some said certain recommendations it made favored organized labor.

Until a new board is named,
Economic Stabilization Administrator Roger L. Putnam could take over as wage stabilizer.

The new board, like the old one, will have equal representation from industry, labor and the public. Whether it will also have 18 members has not been made public. It will not have the old board's power to handle labor disputes.

The American Federation of Labor yesterday ended one government worry: it announced it would co-operate with the new board, despite the loss of some of its power.

There had been speculation organized labor might boycott the weakened WSB.

The AFL's Executive Council, although voting to go along with the new WSB, took opportunity to criticize the new stabilization law, which it said has "materially weakened both price controls and wage stabilization policy."

The council added that lowered barriers to inflation would "inevitably lead" to further demands for wage increases in coming months.

King Farouk, Family Land At Italy Port

NAPLES, Italy (AP)—Egypt's royal yacht, the Mahroussa, brought ex-King Farouk and his family into Naples harbor shortly after noon today.

The ship with the royal exiles aboard had arrived off the pleasure Island of Capri, across the Bay of Naples, at dawn today and vast quantities of baggage were transferred to a smaller motor yacht.

This was believed to be the faster yacht Fakr el Bihār, which is Farouk's personal property.

Egypt's ambassador to Italy, Abdel Aziz Badr Bey, awaited the royal yacht on this side of the water. He had hurried down from Rome last night, not because of the arrival of the deposed Farouk, but because the ex-king brought with him Egypt's new ruler, his six-month-old son, King Fuad II.

The infant was proclaimed king Saturday by Egypt's cabinet after his father bowed to the military pressure of his country's new army commander, Gen. Mohamed Naguib Bey. That night Farouk, with his girl-wife Narriman, their baby and his three daughters by a former marriage, sailed away from Egypt.

Nothing was known here about Farouk's plans. There was speculation he might idle awhile on Capri, where he and Narriman spent their honeymoon a year ago.
Other suggestions were that his destination would be the French Riviera, or Rapallo, on the Italian Riviera, where the ex-king owns a villa.

London Crowd Tells

LONDON (AP)—A crowd of dem-

Police had to clear a path along the platform in Victoria railway station.

One man pressed into the envoy's hand a pamphlet which said
"we don't want communism here, Gromyko."

Gen. Eisenhower To Address 53rd Annual VFW Encampment

DENVER (AP)—Gen. Dwight D.
Eisenhower, the Republican presidential nominee, will address the 53rd annual encampment of the Veterans of Foreign Wars in Los Angeles Aug. 5.

In announcing completion of arrangements today, Arthur H. Vandenberg Jr., the general's executive assistant, said in a statement that Eisenhower's appearance at the convention will be "entirely non-political in nature."

But his remarks to the veterans are likely to deal with the international situation and the struggle for world peace—and are certain to be analyzed in the light of his bid for the presidency.

The VFW convention probably will be the occasion of Eisenhower's first formal speech since he was nominated at the Republican convention July 11. At this point he has no earlier engagement scheduled.

For his VFW appearance, Eisenhower will fly from Denver to Los Angeles the morning of Aug. 5.
Immediately after addressing the convention in the early evening he will return by plane to his campaign headquarters here.

Shortly after arriving in Los Angeles, the general will review the annual VFW parade and then will witness a drum and bugle corps pageant in the Coliseum.

A bit later Eisenhower will receive from the VFW the first annual Bernard M. Baruch medal.
The medal will be presented each year to the person the veterans organization decides has made the greatest contribution to the cause of American unity and world peace.

After the presentation, Eisenhower will make his address. Vandenberg said it will be a brief speech.

Buildings Emit Shower Of Debris In Bakersfield

Fires Start; Tremors
Are Felt Throughout
Southern California

BAKERSFIELD, Calif. (AP)—Two sharp earthquake jolts hit Bakers-field early today, starting two fires and sending frightened residents into the streets as windows broke and bricks fell from previously damaged buildings.

The new tremors at 12:05 a. m.
(PDT) and 1:02 a. m., were felt throughout Southern California, including the Los Angeles area, but were strongest in Bakersfield.

A number of patients were evacuated from the county hospital here. One six-room house was badly damaged when a gas line to a water heater was broken by the tremor, the county fire department reported. A portion of the roof of a machine shop collapsed.

Sheriff's Sgt. Carl L. Weber said he believed the shock was as intense but didn't last as long as the July 21st earthquake that left a toll of 13 dead, 12 of them in Kern County.

Shortly after the first tremor residents reported they heard a loud explosion. However sheriff's officers said they believed the noise probably was from the earthquake rather than an explosion.

In down town Bakersfield some windows were broken and bricks from previously damaged walls fell.

Another tremor was felt, here and in Los Angeles, at about 1:02
a. m. (PDT).

Today's quakes were not as widespread as the original tremor.
Although felt in the Los Angeles area there were no reports of tremors in the San Francisco area to the north or San Diego at the southern end of the state. The July 21st tremor was felt from San Francisco to the Mexican border.

Other Kern County towns were shaken by the quakes today. However at Tehachapi, which bore the brunt of the original one, sheriff's deputy Charles Scott said there was no evidence of additional damage. At nearby Taft, residents ran into the streets this morning and California highway patrol officer Richard Clark said it was the most severe this town had experienced since July 21.

In the original quake a dozen persons in Kern County were killed by crumbling walls and falling rocks, 11 of them in Tehachapi. A 13th victim died in Los Angeles
yesterday.

The first polio case in Salem

Allison of Salem Heights, was taken to Akron Children's Hospital Sunday evening. At first, his parents thought the child might only have intestinal flu, but tests at the hospital showed that he definitely has polio.

The Allison has two children.
Formerly of 744 N. Lincoln Ave., they recently moved to Salem Heights, west of town.

Ohio GOP Plans Platform Today

Hopes It Will Help Elect Slate Nov. 4

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—Ohio Republicans sit down today to figure out a platform they hope will help elect a full slate of GOP officials Nov. 4.

First step is a public hearing, scheduled for 10 a. m. (EST) at the Deshler-Wallick Hotel. Ray C. Bliss, Republican state chairman, said findings of the hearing will be "considered" in drafting the platform.

The state GOP Resolutions Committee will present the platform to delegates of the Republican convention Thursday at the Palace Theater in Columbus.

Even before the hearing began, the platform writers had some suggested planks. These were drawn up Monday by the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation.

The statement to the Resolutions Committee said the Republicans should:

1. "Support the maximum use of research and education in order that farmers may, with a minimum of government assistance, make a return on their labor and investment comparable to other groups with comparable productivity.

2. "Support and enlarged program pointed toward the conservation, rebuilding and wise use of all our natural resources."

Dr. R. Stanfield of Westerville, farm bureau vice president, told the committee it is especially important that the facilities and work of the College of Agriculture at Ohio State University and the Ohio Experiment Station at Wooster be stepped up to "keep in line with the needs of Ohio farmers."

Railroad To Curtail Youngstown Service

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—The New York Central Railroad notified the state utilities commission today it will curtail passenger service between Youngstown and Ashtabula effective Sept. 28.

The railroad said it will discontinue train No. 251 which leaves Ashtabula at 10:08 a. m., arriving at Youngstown at 11:53 a. m., and train No. 282, which leaves Youngstown at 10:35 a. m. and arrives in Ashtabula at 12:10 p. m.

The railroad will continue to operate two trains daily in each direction between the two cities.

Bursitis Inflammation Easier To Avoid Than Cure

The number of people who inquire concerning bursitis raises the question as to whether this painful disorder is increasing in frequency.

Perhaps no one can answer this question, but certainly a great number of people are suffering with it and are eager for information about it — particularly for any information which will lead to bringing them relief.

First, what is bursitis, and how does it differ from arthritis? Both are questions which many people want answered.

Bursitis is inflammation of those small pockets or spaces which lie near the joints, and there are many of them. Arthritis, on the other hand, is an inflammation of the lining of the joints' tissues.

One form of bursitis is fairly frequent—near the elbow, it commonly goes under the name of "tennis elbow." This appears to be the result of a sort of injury to the bursa from overuse.

Housemaid's knee" is another form of bursitis. The bursa involved lies just back of the kneecap and is also usually the result of injury or overuse. And as the name implies, it is comparatively common among those who must be on their knees a good portion of the time.

There are bursas in other places—all of which have perfectly proper scientific names and any of them can become inflamed.

As in the two forms mentioned, the most common cause of bursitis is injury—either by repeated small injuries or from one big one. It is not unusual for bursitis to start suddenly with a good deal of pain and discomfort, as any one who has had it can testify. Frequently the bursa contains fluid, the area around it produces a good deal of pain. Sometimes calcium is deposited in the bursa.

Bursitis is often easier to avoid than to cure. However, what to do for it once it has started is a real problem. When acutely inflamed, rest is particularly important and in order to make this as complete as necessary, a cast, splint or bandage is often used. Heat sometimes relieves some of the pain and tenderness.

Part of the pain may be the result of pressure from fluid, and consequently the doctor may want to draw some of this off through a needle.

Some extremely interesting results by spraying the skin with ethyl chloride have been reported by a New York physician, and there are other treatments which may be worth trying.

The acute phase of the bursitis subsides eventually but too often it turns into a chronic condition. This is distressing because a chronic bursitis is highly resistant to treatment. Deep X-ray helps some; injection into the bursa of various fluids may help others.

In resistant cases it may even be necessary to operate and remove most of the inflamed lining. Fortunately, the really bad cases of chronic bursitis are not too common and most recover without radical treatment.

Roving Reports By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—A husband's job used to be to bring home the bacon.

In more and more households today, however, the husband not only brings home the bacon—he cooks it, too. A man's place is in the kitchen.

This quiet revolution in domestic duties began about a quarter of a century ago in that period of culinary history known as "the era of the outdoor grill."

Father got the idea he was a real heroic figure as he stood, eyes streaming from the smoke, turning over a row of hot dogs or steaks burning to death over a fire in a stone barbecue oven in the backyard.

"M-m-m-m, simply delicious," murmured mama later, munching a sandwich that tasted of garlic and old rust.

This feminine flattery went to father's head.

"If I can do this well outdoors," he told himself, "what couldn't I do in a real kitchen?"

So he moved indoors, bought himself a cookbook, and began experimenting like a small boy with a new chemistry set. Every week-end he figured out a new dish to try on his friends, and from the life of the party he became the wife of the party—the guy in the sky-blue apron.

Mama gallantly shuddered her way through his trial-and-error efforts, and told guests fondly in his presence:

"My husband is getting to be a wonderful cook, but he does leave the kitchen in such a mess."

This praise touched father's conscience. "Why should I have all the fun of cooking, and leave my wife all the dirty work?" he said. "I guess I'd better tidy up the kitchen, too."

That is what I object to most. The husband has been artfully convinced his wife is doing him a favor to let him into the kitchen. But what is the real truth? She has been freed of her most onerous chores through the centuries, cooking dinner, then doing the dishes.

I am an old-fashioned man, and it is the other way in my home. The other evening I went into the kitchen. My wife, Frances, turned around and saw me and jumped. "What's the matter?" I asked. "You startled me," she said. It's been years since I saw you in the kitchen."

But when we go out to have dinner with friends, the host meets me at the door and says:

"Don't go into the living room with the girls. All they'll talk about is baseball and politics. Stay here in the kitchen, and help me baste the mutton. I'm trying a new recipe—very exciting. You wrap it in burlap and Murdock leaves and cook it over a slow fire."

Later, after the meal is over, he

Steel Strike Damage Said To Be Lasting

WASHINGTON (AP)—Thousands of factory shut-downs and idleness for many more thousands of metal workers will develop in the wake of the steel strike, the Defense Production Administration warned today.

Despite the week-end strike settlement, DPA Administrator Henry H. Fowler forecast it may be two to three months before new steel reaches some civilian goods manufacturers. Many will shut down and others curtail output in the meantime, he said.

Fowler estimated the loss from this year's series of steel mill halts at 20 million tons of steel. He listed other damage, most of it still to be felt, as including:

Loss of 300 diesel locomotives and 20,000 freight cars; a setback of three months in the oil well and refinery expansion program; the shutdown, by early August, of about 80 shipyards building barges, tugs and towboats.

Fowler said the electric power expansion program, already behind schedule, will slip further behind its 1952 goal of nine million kilowatts.

Deputies On Watch For Clay Plant Violence

IRONTON, O. (AP)—Peaceful picketing continued at the strike-bound Cambria Clay Products Co. plants here today, but sheriff's deputies were keeping a check on the plants.

Violence erupted last week in a series of shootings, and a dynamiting of a gas main and one striker's home.

E. E. Davis, vice president of the company, said today the union has never submitted wage grievances nor has it discussed the contract since it expired in April.

Otto Holtzapfel, international representative of the AFL Brick and Clay Workers Union, said Saturday a request for a meeting with management to discuss the contract had been made July 21, but no reply had been received.

SALES TAX INCOME UP

When we go in we find the ladies have taken the television set apart and are trying to put in a new tube, and one wife is saying, "darn it, I forgot to put a No. 3 size screwdriver in my purse. I can't

It all makes me pine for the days before knighthood was in flour. It won't be long until a young man, proposing marriage, will win his fair one's heart with this tender clincher:

Pork Will Go Up One To 8 Cents A Pound

WASHINGTON (AP)—Hams, chops and other lean pork cuts popular during summer months are going up from one to eight cents a pound. The Office of Price Stabilization (OPS) announced yesterday that ceiling prices on lean cuts—those accounting for about 40 to 45 per cent of pork sales—are being increased through October. Then they may be reduced. These are the authorized increases, effective immediately: pork shoulders, one cent a pound; hams, bellies, Boston butts and neckbones, three cents; pork chops, loins and spareribs, eight cents. Slaughterers and wholesalers may add $1.20 per hundred pounds on sales of pork products to restaurants, hotels and others selling meals. Ceilings on cuts usually used in making sausage were not boosted. OPS said increases were necessary because the Agriculture Department raises the parity price for hogs above 100 per cent from July through October. And a new economic controls law provides that processors must be given higher ceilings to make up for higher prices paid to farmers. Parity is a price designed to give the farmer a fair return for what he sells in relation to what he has to buy.

Even Hollywood would reject the script as too far fetched . . . the true story of a Connecticut detective's son, reared in a community of narrow and muddled rivers, and destined to be a power by the fabulous Blue Danube and the legendary Rhine . . . a kid who began as a classified-ad solicitor and newspaper circulation helper, and wound up ruling where the Hohenzollerns once stalked the land. Walter Donnelly, just named high commissioner to Germany, is an able, immensely likeable fellow who some up the hard way.

In the modest Donnelly home the household songs were about the River Shannon, Killarney Lakes and Bantry Bay. The piano tinkled to the waltzes of Vienna and Berlin only after a visit by New York opera troupes to New Haven's Hyperion. Nobody dreamed, least of all Walter, that one day he would rule where the royalty of Europe had danced to the "Artist Life," "The Lorelei" and "Auf Wiedersehen."

WALT DONNELLY is a son of the most gracious, well-poised police department we ever knew, a man who began pounding a beat and came to preside over the New Haven Detective Bureau in a cubbyhole of an office in a dingy police station hard by McDonald's livery stable. Walter, the younger son, seemed a little purposeless as a kid. When he got out of Hillhouse High and took a job at $5 a week on The Register on Crown Street there was despair in the Donnelly household, with Papa Donnelly worriedly asking, "Do you think Walter will ever get anywhere?" (Get anywhere, didja say!!!)

We were managing editor of the sheet when Master Donnelly was respoding to sharp orders of "Tie up that want ad for a week's insertion!" and "Hey, kid, give 'em a hand in the circulation room!" Kaiser Wilhelm, the Crown Prince, Von Moltke and the Emperor Franz Josef were often on the front page of the paper served by Master Donnelly, and, as Walter helped fold and sell 'em, who could predict that one day eventually he would hold sway where they had strutted and flung ultimatums?

To the youngster who oozed Irish charm from every pore, they and their countries seemed in a misty never-never land. Ireland appeared much closer to the Donnelly hearts with its "Kathleen Mavourneen," "My Wild Irish Rose" and "The Kerry Dance." No "Gottedammerung," "Blue Danube" or "Emperor's Waltz" came from the Donnelly phonograph. Yet the kid was to grow up and hold power over Austria and later a great part of Germany and live, move and issue orders in the great halls where crowned heads had whirled to Johann Strauss waltzes. To Germany he goes as high commissioner in a few days, ultimately to be ambassador, wielding terrific power in a day of mavor crisis, conceivably the fate of Europe in his hands.

WE HAD LOST tracks of Walter until a few years ago we heard of him as ambassador to Venezuela in a diplomatic career of brilliance which followed graduation from Georgetown. More recently he has been giving Joe Stalin his "come-uppance" in Austria. And New Germany. Well, more power to you, Walt! In Vienna did you ever look at the classified ads and remember when John Day Jackson, the publisher back home, asked "Who's the new kid? Do you think he's got anything on the ball?"

"Red" Barber, the famous baseball broadcaster, has gone Peter Panish. . . . A new television commercial portrays him INSIDE an electric icebox, flying through space. . . . One minute "Red" is on the ledge with the fish and meat, the next minute he is coming in for a landing on the icecube. . . . A sort of "Man on the Flying Decapitator."

Mosey King, once a famous prize-winning performer, is retiring as boxing coach at Yale after 46 years of tutoring the blues in self-defense. . . . Mosey, a great influence on boys at Yale for nearly a half century, was first hired to toughen up a Yale football squad in the era of the Big Three when football was a far rougher game than today and when every big star in the game had to be a rugged individual. . . . He later became boxing coach, serving since the days of Arthur Twining Hadley and Dean Jones in the classroom and of the Hogans, Rafterys, Shevlins, Coys and Jones brothers on the gridiron. . . .

New York bricklayers now get $3.55 an hour or about $25 a day. . . . Whether that they put in bricks today is straw, we are not certain, but it certainly ain't hay.

A Change In '52

Campaign May Parallel '20 Election

Now that two good candidates for the presidency have been nominated, the question that most everybody is asking is how the voters will react and what will be the principal things influencing their final choice.

All too often in American political history, unfortunately even when one candidate is plainly superior to the other, the better man has not been elected. It is in the study of such campaigns that the answer must be sought to the 1952 contest. For issues sometime dwarf the importance of the personality of the better candidate and better campaigner.

THE MOST RECENT case in point was when James M. Cox, Democrat, ran against Warren Harding, Republican, in 1920. Nobody at that time thought for a moment that Harding was even in the same class with Cox so far as qualifications for the presidency were concerned. Harding had been a rather colorless senator while Cox had three times been elected governor of Ohio, a Republican state.

As for campaigning, Cox toured the country from coast to coast and made excellent speeches and a fine impression on the voters who heard him. Harding stayed at Marion, Ohio, and conducted what was known then as a "front porch" campaign. He made a few speeches to visiting delegations. His addresses were full of ponderous phrases and ambiguities.

Cox embraced the Woodrow Wilson record and championed the League of Nations which Wilson had sponsored. He started just as Governor Stevenson has done this time by accepting the record of the preceding Democratic administration and standing on it. This correspondent was sympathetic to the Wilson international policies and was impressed with the ability of Cox.

Traveling westward to the Pacific Coast, this writer left the Cox campaign train at the Pacific Coast in order to make an independent investigation and, on returning eastward, discovered to his surprise that Cox did not bother to ask about Cox or discuss his abilities—they were just fed up with the Wilson administration and wanted a "change."

While there were some elements which were opposed to the League and this in certain states helped swing Irish and German groups from the Democratic Party into the Republican Party, the basic tide was one of irritation with wartime restrictions—economic discontent growing out of high prices and other disturbances produced by wartime conditions.

This writer found the tide running against the Democratic Party in state after state and so reported each day, finally winding up in the week before the election with a prediction that Harding would win by a comfortable majority. But actually Harding's victory was a landslide—the biggest sweep the Republican Party had achieved in all its history. In that election, incidentally, women voted for the first time.

IS THERE A PARALLEL between 1920 and 1952? It is too early to answer that but the analogy is worth examining by the campaign managers of both sides because if they think the personality of the candidate and the virtues of one or the other are going to be controlling they have another guess coming. It is the issues which will count most and the relationship of those issues to the fundamental thinking of the electorate.

Do the voters want a "change"? Unquestionably they do. The Democratic national convention accepted as sincere President Truman's desire to retire and selected Governor Stevenson. The Democratic stump speakers will argue this is a "change." So far as personalities are concerned they are right, but will Stevenson accept the Truman policies 100 percent? In what respect will he change men and policies? Will he clean house at Washington and get rid of the parasites of 20 years?

Stevenson will be on the defensive on this sort of attack which apparently has already begun from the Eisenhower-Nixon camp. The Republicans in 1920 conducted a passive campaign—they had the support of the isolationists and the internationalists in their own ranks between the factions. When it was all over there wasn't much logic in what the voters did—they chose an inferior mind and an inferior character for the presidency and rejected a splendidly equipped statesman. But the people wanted a "change"—and they got it.

Clearing The Air

Long the fodder for comedians' jokes, smog is being taken more and more seriously by those who put the smoke into the fog.

Industry's one-time "public-bellied" attitude is out the window.

Authorities estimate that more than $100 million a year is now being spent by industry and government on equipment to control air pollution.

As staggering as the amount spent on control may be, projected estimates of damages from air pollution are about 10 times greater.

Direct economic loss—damage to crops, farm animals, and buildings plus clean-up bills—may soon soar to $1,050,000,000 a year.

Egged on by an aroused public, by newspapers' anti-smoke campaigns and by a desire to be good neighbors, most of industry is participating wholeheartedly in the efforts of the Air Pollution and Smoke Prevention Association of America.

Its first meeting, at Chicago in 1907, saw only 13 in attendance. Public interest was low and industrial representatives stayed away in droves. People regarded smoggy cities as the price we must pay for our tremendous industrial expansion.

In October, 1948, came the tragedy at Donora, Pa. Five days of all-enveloping smog closed in on the steel town, situated in a valley on the Monongahela River. When it finally lifted there were 20 dead and nearly 6000 others—45 percent of the population—had been made ill. Donora was the worst air pollution disaster in the United States.

With Donora and potential Donoras lending impetus, interest in smoke control increased. For the 45th convention in Cleveland this year, some 600 engineers were on hand—half from industry and half from government. The turnout was the largest in the association's history.

The uppermost question at these meetings is: What can be done to control this byproduct of production that chokes off life and blights property?

Stephen Vajda, scientist for Pittsburgh's Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp., gave one answer. He told of an ultra-sonic siren which does much in eliminating one of the many air pollution hazards.

The device emits sound waves beyond the range of human hearing, which shriek through dust chambers at steel mill open hearth installations and bind the particles into larger pieces for easy collection and disposal. Vajda reports that certain fumes already have been controlled by this unique method.

Another warrior in the battle for cleaner air is the Aerodyne, which utilizes conical shaped gimmicks with slotted sides. Gases pass through the larger ends of the cones and sharp changes of directions taken by the gases through thousands of slots prevent particles of impurities from reaching the outside. They pass through the small ends of the cones and into collecting traps.

At its Hell Gate plant in New York City Consolidated Edison Co. traps 50 tons of impurities a day. When the job of installing Aerodynes at Ford's River Rouge, Mich., plant is completed, about 500 tons of contaminants are expected to be caught a day.

Dieselization program is rapidly taking railroads out of the running as major air pollution offenders. Aiding in the onslaught against air pollution are after-burners equipped with electric eyes. The burner, located atop a chimney, consumes volatile substances which otherwise would be discharged into the atmosphere. The delicate electric eye detects the impurities and activates the burner.

Many other devices, including various types of washers, some of which wet impurities so they can be collected later in sludge form, are helping in the purer air campaign.

But, as APSPAA warns, it will take long, continuous effort by the industrialist, municipal air control official, and the housewife to conquer air pollution and let the sun back into our industrial cities.

Uncle Ef Says

We're making up a pool at the store on how long it will take the Russians to snarl up the Olympic games and have everything in an uproar at Helsinki. They'd probably rather do that than win a foot race.

"Summer romances certainly are dangerous—look at my sister out in that canoe, and she can't swim a stroke!"

Political Contrasts

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

Comparing the Republican and Democratic conventions, it is possible to reach the conclusion that a party out of power for a prolonged period, in this country, loses the art of political management.

The Democrats have had the same kind of a row as the Republicans and it gave every appearance of being deeper and of greater permanence. The dismissal from his candidacy of Vice President Alben Barkley by Jack Kroll of the CIO-PAC; the attempt of Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., Senators Blair Moody and Hubert Humphrey to purge the Southern states; the fight on FEPC and states rights could have produced a bolt. But such political operators as Sam Rayburn, Leslie Biffie, Jim Farley, Chairman of the National Committee Frank E. McKinney, determined that the party would not be split. To an astonishing degree, in view of the complex problems they faced, they succeeded.

George E. Sokolsky

THE REPUBLICANS had no such mature leadership. It is true that the ovation for Herbert Hoover brought tears of joy and sympathy to many an eye, but nothing that he or General MacArthur said made any difference at all. Every effort that was initiated to keep the bitter quarrels off the convention floor was vetoed by Tom Dewey and Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. Long before the Republican convention opened, Herbert Hoover warned both sides of the dangers of fratricidal warfare in front of television cameras; yet, it was impossible to get the Eisenhower management to consider any form of compromise.

This is immature leadership, as, after all, the main business of a party is to elect its candidate and if events are permitted to occur on the convention floor which produce dissension and ill-will, the election is imperilled. The Republicans acted as though nothing mattered but the nomination; the Democratic leadership fought to preserve the party as was evidenced by the brilliant tactics of keeping Virginia, Louisiana and South Carolina seated.

Again, I contrast the two keynote speeches. General MacArthur's speech was his own views. Governor Dewey's keynote speech was a party document which laid down the line for the campaign.

Again, I must contrast the positive presiding tactics of Speaker Sam Rayburn and his Republican counterpart, Joe Martin. Rayburn, in his very first words, assumed the full authority of his position and challenged all recalcitrant elements in the convention to behave like gentlemen. He killed a fight on the platform with courage and skill. His was a swift, sharp handling of difficult situations.

THE DEMOCRATS had the advantage of having watched the Republicans' performance, and seeing how horrid it was. They tried to make improvements. One improvement was to keep such characters as Governor Dewey of New York and Governor Fine of Pennsylvania—and the Democrats must have plenty of them, too—from strutting and blustering and becoming featured actors in a ham show. They limited the time of speakers and made them stick to the arrangements.

The essential difference is that in the 20 years that the Democrats have been in office, their seniors have mastered the art of politics and political operations. And they want to stay in office. This was never more obvious than in the parade up to the rostrum, after Barkley's speech, of all the party leaders, including those who instigated Jack Droll's disrespectful and ill-mannered nonsense about Barkley being too old. Incidentally, how old is Phil Murray or William Green or John L. Lewis?

Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr., Blair Moody, Hubert Humphrey, Herbert Lehman and other rebels blatantly and vociferously marched to the rostrum to toe the mark of party unity. That did not happen at any time in the Republican convention. There was no joining of forces even to try to end factionalism. There was a chance for that after Hoover's speech; it was missed. Then Dirksen made his attack on Tom Dewey, the bitterness bubbled over and is still bubbling. It could have been averted by political know-how.

Political maturity does not require subordination to the will of leadership. It does involve an understanding of the goals and objectives. It does insist upon compromises and restraints in order that the goals and objectives may be achieved.

The senior leadership of the Democratic party grasped these essentials of party management; the Republicans ran away from the seniors and lost the advantage of experience.

It will be interesting and even important to see how these contrasts affect the management and results of the forthcoming campaign.

Bring On 1956!

By TRUMAN TWILL

Before winding up this convention thing for another four years, what about sensitive and easily-offended souls who think it's a shame Americans make fools of themselves over politics?

What about their tch-tch-ing over the impropriety of grown men and women behaving like children during what should be the solemn process of choosing someone to be a candidate for the highest public office on earth?

Should the critics be taken seriously when they sniff that this spectacle is enough to turn the stomach of a foreigner and that maybe Hitler and Mussolini were right after all when they said democracy was for the birds?

You're darned right they should be taken seriously. They should be slapped silly for talking like totalitarians itching to let a self-appointed master do their thinking and acting for them. That would be dignified. There would be no confetti, funny hats, or circus get-ups in that arrangement. There would be no politicking, no parliamentary maneuvering, no hog-calling, no bellowing, no time wasted on nonsense.

There would be bullets in the backs of the heads of the losers, deportations in unheated freight cars in midwinter and toadying to bully-boys with ships.

There never is anything illogical about authoritarian politics. No one ever demands a poll of the delegation at midnight. No one makes a jackass of himself on a national hook-up. There are no oratorical burps delivered to an audience which isn't listening. Everything is as logical as a sharp knife drawn across the throat.

But the results are as illogical as Hitler the Hun and Benito the Bungler. Mystifying as it is, the illogical procedure used in the United States comes to more logical conclusions.

Americans haven't suffered too seriously from having horseplay mixed with their politics. It has not hurt them to ham up the act. When televisioners who are still groggy from watching their first conventions catch up on sleep, they will be able to rationalize their disillusionment if they really believe in democracy.

If political conventions were not what they had expected them to be, it still is possible they will conclude after thoughtful consideration that the conventions actually were much more than they expected and therefore a shock. Democracy in action is no sight for the squeamish. Dried-up old ladies and gentlemen with no appetite for rough-house had better stick to their weak tea and dry toast.

These perspiring, aspiring, writhing and conviving people who go to conventions are no further than a whoop and a holler beyond the whiskey-drinking tobacco-chewing roughnecks who first confronted the nice people of America with a rude proposition that being unrespectable was not a crime in the eyes of the Almighty.

The lily-fingered respectables of bygone days turned their heads and lowered delicate lids over pained eyes. They did not think there was any future for churls and hobbledoys who made fools of themselves over politics—who whooped and hollered, slurped up booze, thumbed their opponents' eyes in the clinches and did not observe the niceties. So who came out on top? The boys who fought hardest, as always.

THE STATUE OF LIBERTY FACES THE SEA BUT—

WHAT IF SHE TURNUED TO LOOK AT AMERICA?

THE STATUE OF LIBERTY FACES THE REST OF THE WORLD AS A SYMBOL THAT AMERICAN GOVERNMENT PROTECTS EVERY INDIVIDUAL'S GOD-GIVEN

BUT WHAT IF SHE SUDDENLY TURNED AND LOOKED AT AMERICA?

SHE WOULD FIND OUR AMERICAN GOVERNMENT HAD CHANGED

INDIVIDUAL RIGHTS

SHE WOULD FIND THAT —

GOVERNMENT IS INTERFERING

THE FEDERAL GOVERNMENT HAS

THE FEDERAL GOVERNMENT NOW HAS
UNLIMITED POWER TO TAX THE

THE WORLD, WE MUST INSIST ON A MORAL PURPOSE FOR GOVERNMENT

LIFE, LIBERTY, THE RIGHT TO EARN AND HOLD PROPERTY — these three gifts of God preceded all man-made laws and are superior to them.

Therefore, the purpose of our government must be—

“TO MAKE AND ENFORCE LAWS WHICH PRO-TECT EVERY INDIVIDUAL'S GOD-GIVEN LIFE, LIBERTY AND THE RIGHT TO EARN AND HOLD

OTHER INDIVIDUAL OR GROUP — AND THESE LAWS MUST ALSO PROTECT THE PEOPLE FROM

then a moral government cannot lawfully interfere with the Life, Liberty or Property of individuals

Schools Have Two Vacancies

Board Of Education To Meet This Week

COLUMBIANA—The board of education of Columbiana exempted school district will probably hold a special meeting this week to complete the teaching staff for next school year. Posts of high school principal and home economics teacher remain to be filled.

F. R. Narragon, who resigned last year for health reasons, as superintendent of the Leetonia schools, has accepted a part-time teaching position in the mathematics department of the Columbiana schools, and Mrs. Florence Campbell of 354 N. Main St. has been elected to the remaining vacancy in the primary department.

The elevation of Principal D. W. Bailey to the post of superintendent after the resignation of H. F. Richmond, who becomes principal of Alliance High, leaves vacant the position of principal. A number of applications and inquiries have been received concerning the remaining vacancies.

ALTHOUGH the Columbiana Milling & Supply Co. has shipped out about 25 carloads of wheat, its four grain elevators still hold thousands of bushels which are being augmented by continuous deliveries from the harvest fields. Shipments have been slowed for want of grain cars, but Agent Earl Kurtz at the Pennsylvania station says more cars are on the way. The milling company expected to ship well on to 60 cars this summer.

About 50 attended the picnic supper and reunion of the class of '42 of Columbiana High School in Firestone Park Saturday evening. Those in attendance included a number of the 30 original members of the class of 30 and their families, mostly from Lisbon, Greenford and Columbiana. From greater distances were Eugene Haney and family of Middletown, O., and Mrs. Betty Pittman Williams and family of Diamond, O.

It was decided to have another reunion at the same place about the same time next year. Officers elected were: Norman Pregenzer of Lisbon, president; Mrs. Esther Tucker of Columbiana, secretary-treasurer; and Mrs. Ellen Halverstadt of Columbiana, chairman of the table committee.

The late Frederick Thoman, retired Columbiana business man, who died last week at the age of 80, was in his younger days a musician and band master. In the decade of the 1890s, before locating in Columbiana in '97, he played cornet in the nationally-known Grand Army Band of Canton, which he accompanied once to the Pacific coast. After he came here, he organized Thoman's Concert Band of Columbiana, which he directed for a period of years after the turn of the century.

A FAMILY PICNIC will be held at 6:15 p.m. today in connection with the meeting of Cub Pack 17, Boy Scouts, of the Presbyterian Church in Pavilion 4, Firestone Park. Each den will have its own menu. The theme will be "Know Your Neighborhood," and the boys will display their geographic sketches of points of interest in Columbiana.

Brooklyn, New York See Major League Leads Crumble Slowly

Yanks Thumped By Detroit, 12-2

Cardinals Win Fourth Straight From Bums

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer
Managers Charlie Dressen of the Brooklyn Dodgers and Casey Stengel of the New York Yankees were beseeching their bosses for more pitching help today after watching their once impregnable leads shrink like a 10 dollar suit in the rain.

Just six days ago, the Dodgers and Yankees were looking back at the other clubs and laughing their way to pennants. Now things have gone sour and worried frowns have replaced the happy smiles. The road looks longer as the leads grow smaller.

Yesterday's 12-2 Yankee loss to Detroit and the 3-2 Dodger defeat by the St. Louis Cardinals climaxed four days and saw this:

1. The Yankees' American League lead of five games over Boston and seven over Cleveland dwindled to three over the now second-place Indians and 3½ over the Red Sox.

2. The Dodgers' 7½ game bulge over the New York Giants dropped to only four. Even the third-place Cardinals, who were 13 games back and apparently out of the race, now trail by only 9½.

3. The Dodgers heaved a sigh of relief as Eddie Stanky's merciless Redbirds headed for Boston, but not before they had taken four straight at Ebbets' Field.

Gerry Staley applied the final crusher to the Dodgers last night, hurling a four-hitter and losing a shutout in the ninth when two St. Louis errors gave the Dodgers a pair of unearned runs.

The Cards had built up a 3-0 lead against Ben Wade on run-scoring singles by Staley and Stan Musial in the fifth and Del Rice's home run in the sixth. Staley, gunning for his 13th triumph, his third over Brooklyn, permitted only two runners to reach second base until the ninth.

Drop Raps Two Homers
There was little doubt about the Yankee outcome after the first inning when the Tigers broke through rookie Harry Schaeffer for three quick runs. The Tigers continued to slug away, accumulating 15 hits while Hal Newhouse coasted to his third victory with a neat seven-hitter. Walt Dropo led the Tiger attack with a pair of homers, his 17th and 18th of the season.

In the only other scheduled game, the St. Louis Browns upset the Washington Senators, 6-3, as Satchel Paige celebrated a "night" in his honor by pitching his seventh triumph. A three-run triple by Bobby Young highlighted a four-run first inning against Lefty Lou Sleater. Paige tired in the seventh inning and needed help from Bob Cain.

Yesterday's Stars

Batting: Walt Dropo, Tigers—Hammered his 17th and 18th home runs to lead the Tigers to a 12-2 triumph over the New York Yankees.

Pitching: Gerry Staley, Cardinals—Limited the Dodgers to four hits and two unearned runs in pitching the Cardinals to a 3-2 triumph for his 13th victory of the season and St. Louis' fourth straight over Brooklyn.

Nixon Returns Home, Promises Prosperity

WHITTIER, Calif. (AP)—Handsome Dick Nixon came home last night with a promise of "prosperity built on peace rather than war."

The Republican vice presidential nominee told a crowd of more than 5,000 at a reception in Whittier College Stadium he is confident Gen. Dwight Eisenhower "can furnish the leadership America needs to insure victory without war."

Sign Negro Ballplayer

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—The Oklahoma City Indians signed the Texas League's second Negro ballplayer Monday night, a 26-year-old right-handed pitcher.

William H. Greason of Atlanta, Ga., will probably make his debut against Shreveport before the Indians take to the road Saturday.

Fight Results

By The Associated Press
NEW YORK — Rocky Marciano, 187½, Brockton, Mass., knocked out Harry Matthews, 179, Seattle, Wash., 2.

MONTREAL — Johnny Bratton, 151½, Chicago, stopped Laurent Dauthuille, 157½, France, 3.

Rocky Marciano Kayos Matthews In Second Round

Score Markers During Third, Fifth Innings

The Salem Little Leaguers came through with a first round victory last night when they whipped East Palestine, 4-0, in a game at Centennial Park.

A large crowd watched the Salem outfit tally two runs in the third and two in the fifth while Jimmy Meissner kept the East Palestine team under control by allowing them just two hits.

Meissner had nine strike outs while hurling for the Salem nine. He also collected two hits while at bat as did Bob Stallsmith.

Larry Snyder accounted for two of Salem's runs when he blasted a home run with a teammate aboard. Stallsmith, Meissner and Stallsmith accounted for five of the Little Leaguers' six bingles.

Wednesday night the locals will encounter the winner of the Youngstown district in another 6 p.m. game at the park. The contest is in the third round of play and a victory for the Salem youngsters will take them to Ashtabula for further competition.

Tam O'Shanter Holds Qualifying Rounds

CHICAGO (AP)—Qualifying sessions today will open the preliminary phase of the fabulous Tam O'Shanter golf meet—a series of tournaments with the game's richest purse distribution, $120,000.

The gold rush's first lap—called the All-American—begins Thursday and runs through Sunday. It's a 72-hole medal chase over a 6,915-yard playground that boasts seven water holes and a 36-36-72 par.

There are three sections to the All-American. Men professionals, men amateurs, and women, both pros and amateurs, will strive for All-American titles in three separate tournaments running simultaneously.

The total All-American prize list is $30,000 with $3,420 earmarked for the top male pro and $1,000 for the women's winner if she is a pro. The amateurs receive merchandise awards.

The All-American scramble, however, merely serves as hors d'oeuvres for the main course. This would be promoter George S. May's "world" championships over 72 holes starting on Aug. 7.

The "world" affair carries a value of $90,000 for women and men professionals.

Satchel Paige Remains Biggest Crowd Drawer

ST. LOUIS — Old Satchel Paige may have lost some of his hurling effectiveness but the venerable Negro moundsman still remains a top drawing card.

Paige, making his first start of the season Monday night against fourth place Washington attracted a crowd of 14,189, the most the event place Browns have drawn at home since June 15 and their sixth highest attendance of the year.

Doby Boasts Top Slugging .569 Average

NEW YORK (AP)—Larry Doby, whose power has been instrumental in lifting the Cleveland Indians back into the thick of the American League pennant chase, boasts the highest slugging average in the major leagues today.

Slugging averages compiled by The Associated Press through Sunday's games revealed that Doby, with 15 doubles, six triples and 20 home runs among his 91 hits, has rolled up a total of 178 bases in 313 times at bat for a .569 slugging mark.

The speedy Negro outfielder, who has connected for the circuit in three of his last four games, was second to Ted Williams in AL slugging competition last season with .512.

Hank Sauer of the Chicago Cubs, the slugging pace-setter since early in the season, continued to top the National League with a .554 mark. The hard-hitting outfielder has collected 201 total bases in 363 trips to the plate. Among his hits are 24 homers (most in the NL), 22 doubles and three triples.

Al Rosen, another of Cleveland's long ball swingers, is right behind Doby at .543.

Will Oppose Joe Walcott In Title Bout

NEW YORK (AP)—Rocky Marciano eyes a Sept. 23 million dollar title shot at Heavyweight Champion Jersey Joe Walcott after his sensational two-round knockout of Harry Matthews.

"Marciano and Walcott will do all you can put in the till," said Jim Norris, International Boxing Club president after last night's Yankee Stadium elimination bout. "A million is a conservative guess, not counting television or theater TV."

"I'm ready for Walcott," said the unbeaten Brockton, Mass., slugger. "I can lick anybody I step in the ring with. I don't say how I'll come out with Joe. I never make predictions. But I'm ready for him."

Walcott, who watched Marciano's crunching left hooks to the jaw sprawl Matthews on his back in 2:04 of the second round, said he was "looking forward to meeting Marciano."

Back under the stands in Matthews' dressing room, manager Jack Hurley who does all the talking for his Seattle fighter said "Harry was a glorified amateur for 10 years and tonight he reverted to type." Matthews had little to say, grinning sheepishly. Neither had any alibi about bad hands or officials.

A Marciano-Walcott bout Sept. 23 at Yankee Stadium is Norris' goal.

The payoff on Marciano-Matthews was disappointing in contrast to early estimates. But a last minute gate sale saved it from being a flop. A crowd of 31,188 paid $215,707 to see the show that barely beat the rain. In fact, the semi-final was cut from six to five rounds and the main event was shoved on without lengthy introductions when it started to sprinkle.

Matthews won round No. 1 on the cards of Referee Ray Miller, Judges Harold Barnes and Joe Agnello and The A. P. but that was all, brother. Two crunching hooks to the jaw, some 30 seconds after a long looping right started Matthews on his way, brought victory to swarthy Rocky, an 11 to 5 favorite. Marciano had an 8½ pound advantage at 187½ to Matthews' 179.

When the 29-year-old Matthews went down on his back, clawed at the ropes in an attempt to get up and then collapsed over the bottom strand, he lost his first fight since 1943. His last loss also was a KO by Eddie Booker in 1943. In his long 105-bout career he has lost only four and was unbeaten in his last 70 until Marciano came along.

As far as managers go, Sewell and Hornsby are personalities as different as day and night.

Whereas Sewell is a soft-spoken gent who believes in kind and fatherly measures, Hornsby was never one to coddle players. The "Rajah" believes that a player should eat, sleep and talk baseball 24 hours a day.

Hornsby, who will be manager through the balance of the year and through 1953, will draw two paychecks while working for the Redlegs.

Bill Veeck, St. Louis Browns' owner, said Hornsby will continue to draw his pay as pilot of the Browns under a three-year contract despite his ousting last June 10.

Veeck said Hornsby will get full salaries this year and next, and half pay in 1954 under the agreement. The contract called for a reported $36,000 a year.

U. S. Cagers Clinch Finals

Break Scoring Record While Whipping Chile

HELSINKI (AP)—The undefeated United States basketball team clinched a place in the Olympic finals today with a record-scoring 103 to 55 triumph over Chile.

Three American men swimmers, Wayne Moore and Jimmy McLane of Yale and Ford Konno, 19-year-old Ohio State freshman from Hawaii, earned places in the final of the 400 meter free style event.

Pat McCormick of Long Beach, Calif., took the early lead in women's three-meter springboard diving with defending champion Zoe Ann Olsen Jensen of Oakland, Calif., back in fourth place after the morning round of compulsory dives.

And, as usual, two more Olympic records were broken.

The semi-finals of the men's 400 meter freestyle turned into another record-breaking carnival as Jean Boiteux of France lowered the Olympic mark to four minutes 33.1 seconds.

Geertje Wielema of Holland broke the Olympic record for the women's 100 meter backstroke when she won her qualifying heat in 1:13.8.

Barbara Stark of Berkeley, Calif., qualified for the final on a time basis.

McLane, the 1948 Olympic 1500 meters freestyle champion, also qualified on a fourth place finish behind Boiteux. Konno and Moore both won their heats in the 400-meter semi-finals.

Basketball coach Warren Womble used his University of Kansas platoon almost entirely against Chile and the collegians responded by breaking the high-scoring mark of 100 points set by Argentina yesterday. Leading

Greenberg Says Browns-Chicago Deal Hurts

Believes Veeck Is Strengthening Sox To Hurt Indians

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cleveland General Manager Hank Greenberg complained today that owner Bill Veeck of the St. Louis Browns "will do anything in his power to hurt the Indians."

Obviously angry, Greenberg told a reporter he was talking about the player deal just completed between the Browns and the Chicago White Sox, sending outfielder Jim Rivera and catcher Darrell Johnson to Chicago.

Outfielder Ray Coleman and catcher J. W. Porter went to St. Louis.

That will strengthen the White Sox a great deal, said Hank, and the Indians have 11 more games with them. He said he thinks Veeck, ex-Indians owner, wants Chicago to hurt the Indians' pennant chances.

Greenberg said "Rivera and Johnson certainly aren't waiver-price ball players. We would have offered Veeck much more than the waiver price for either of them, if it were possible to buy expensive players after June 15."

"Last season we tried our best to get Coleman from the Browns. They were a cinch for last place, and we thought Coleman might win the pennant for us."

"Veeck wouldn't deal with us, but he sold Coleman to the White Sox in a waiver deal."

Bliss, Amvets Win Close AA Contests

Mullins, sitting in the bottom half of the Class AA League, ousted Butler Grange in an 11-inning contest last night in the opening game at Kelley Park, 3-1, when Red Hall blasted a home run after Jack Lutz singled to open the inning.

The game was a thriller throughout as Mullins scored a run in the very first inning. Toot Hrvatin doubled and scored later on in-field outs. The Grangers came back in the bottom of the fourth frame and deadlocked the score when Joe Vogelhuber tallied on an error after singling.

From there on John McQuiston and Glen Mercer of Butler Grange had a pitcher's battle until the top of the 11th frame when Lutz led off with his single. After a ground out and a fly out, Hall stroled to the plate and banged out his homer.

Butler Grange then was held down in the bottom part of the inning and the Manufacturers won the game.

McQuiston gave up six base hits including three harmless doubles. Mercer yielded seven bingles, one Hall's homer and a double, key blow of Mullins first inning tally.

Bliss Slips Past Demings

The Bliss Cardinals barely slipped past Demings in the final game of the evening when they tallied a run in the bottom of the eighth inning and won a 6-5 decision.

Bliss led off the game with three runs in the bottom of the fourth inning but Demings came back with two in the top of the fifth. A run in the top of the sixth inning for Demings pushed them ahead.

However, Bliss moved back into the lead in the bottom of the sixth frame, 4-3. But the Pumpers tallied two in the top of the seventh frame to take the lead, 5-4.

But again Bliss came through and deadlocked the score at 5-all as the teams went into the eighth frame. Dick Jackson held the Pumpers in the top of the eighth frame and his teammates scored a single run in the bottom of the frame to take the victory. Del Court's single allowed Harry Ehrhart to tally the winning marker after he had walked.

Jackson gave up nine hits to the Pumpers while the Blissmen garnered eight bingles from the offerings of Dave Ehrhart.

Amvets Edge Gil & Chucks

The Amvets got only three hits off Don Bell but two of them came in the fourth inning and allowed them to score the only run of the game to whip Gil & Chucks, 1-0.

Singles by Pat Mancuso and Dempsey Baisley were the two blows that forced Bell and his teammates to bow to the Amvets. John Zines yielded four hits to the G-C nine but kept them under control.

Our Response

on a recent ad was very gratifying, but we still need display space and we now offer the following selection of good, used appliances at such reduced prices as you see below:

Hot-Shot Savings On Used Refrigerators

Good Size Frigidaire

This one came from a good home and we should get $100, but we don't just have enough space for any more used refrigerators at present, so will let it go for $75!

Servel Gas Refrigerator

Small Size $40
Large Size $75

Hotpoint

(Approximately 8 cu. ft. We should get $85 for this refrigerator, but right now we'll offer it to you for $65!)

Westinghouse

(This is a large box in good running order, needs a new gasket. Take it away at $40!)

Frigidaire

(Deluxe Model, and only four years old. It would not be overpriced at $200, but for $160, it's yours!)

Norge

(Small size! This little space-saver is a honey, and if you pay for delivery, you can have it for $40!)

Norge

(Large size! This is a clean one, what a savings at only $75!)

Other Good Used Merchandise

Prosperity Gas Range

(All white, table top. $40 plus delivery)

Marlboro Universal Gas Range

(Smokeless broiler. We should get $75 for this range, but it's cream-colored and we'll sacrifice for $40, plus delivery.)

Wing-Back Chair

(Newly upholstered by Imperial. We'd like to get part of our money out of it! Yours for $40!)

Ohio May Embargo Shipment Of Hogs

COLUMBUS, O. (AP) — The state agriculture department plans a conference Wednesday to decide whether to embargo all hog shipments into Ohio.

The embargo would be aimed at keeping vesicular exanthema — a hog disease — out of Ohio. There are no known cases of the disease in the state now, but the department fears it may have crept in with a shipment of hogs from Secaucus, N. J., where vesicular exanthema is prevalent.

Federal and state veterinarians are conducting exhaustive tests to determine whether the hogs, now on a farm near Columbus, have the malady. The tests will take many days.

71 Klansmen To Be Sentenced

Whiteville, N. C., Scene Of Trials

WHITEVILLE, N. C. (AP) — Superior Court Judge Clawson L. Williams was expected to pass sentence today on 71 defendants in Ku Klux Klan flogging cases, including Imperial Wizard Thomas L. Hamilton of Leesville, S. C. Hamilton and the other defendants were ordered to appear in court this afternoon, with sentencing due to start at 2:30 p. m. They face a possible maximum sentence of four years in a prison. Hamilton pleaded guilty last week to complicity in two flogging cases.

The state planned to complete its presentation of evidence early today in two violence cases. The victims were Esther Lee Floyd and Dorsey Robinson, Chadbourn Negroes.

Fourteen defendants have pleaded guilty or no contest to charges of assault and conspiracy in the Floyd and Robinson cases. Charges were dismissed yesterday against eight other defendants in the two cases because of lack of evidence.

Witnesses testified Robinson was flogged "because he was drinking too much."

The Floyd woman escaped the lash, witnesses testified, because she said she was pregnant. However, one Klansman took a pair of clippers and cut a cross in her hair. Witnesses said she was singled out by the nightriders because she was running around with a white man.

More than 100 Klan indictments were disposed of at last week's term of court.

what is a drug store?

THE DRUG STORE is but one unit in a complex pattern of businesses and professions, all of which serve the needs of the community. But it is unique in that pharmacy is both a business and a profession.

A business built on service to the sick cannot be restricted to usual "business hours." The need for medicine and sickroom supplies is usually immediate and urgent. In times of widespread illness, the twenty-four-hour day seems all too short. We are ready, day or night, to serve the pharmaceutical needs of the community.
